NEWS/OPPORTUNITIES AT PURDUE

MS AND PHD EAPS STUDENTS BROADEN YOUR GRAD EXPERIENCE

For those MS and PhD students in EAPS that would like to broaden their graduate experiences while at Purdue, EAPS is affiliated with the Computational Interdisciplinary Graduate Programs (CIGP) at Purdue. While working toward a graduate degree in EAPS, graduate students can also have a concentration (specialization) in the area of Computational Science and Engineering (CSE). For more information, click here. A short video about the CIGP/CSE program can be found here.

Spring Application Deadline: March 1

MEETINGS/EXPOS/ OPPORTUNITIES OUTSIDE OF PURDUE

WATERSHED SCHOLARS PROGRAM

For students interested in pursuing a Master's degree in biology, chemistry, civil engineering, environmental sciences, or geography with an emphasis in Watershed Sciences at Southern Illinois University Edwardsville (SIUE). Selected students will receive a tuition waiver and $10,000 scholarship for each of the two years they are in the program, as well as funding to attend conferences and to purchase equipment and tools needed to complete their research. In addition, students will participate in thesis and research workshops, career panels, scientific and technical seminars, and mentoring from a variety of sources. Eligible students are required to have an income of $25,515 or less while a student at program start date (Fall 2024). Scholars must be U.S. citizens, permanent residents, or admitted refugees. Interested individuals can read more about the program here. SIUE is located near the confluence of the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers and offers opportunities to study watersheds at multiple scales and from rural to urban settings. The SIUE campus is on 2,600 acres of beautiful rolling hills and woodlands, on the bluff of the Mississippi floodplain. Students applying to SIUE master's programs in Biological Sciences, Chemistry, Civil Engineering, Environmental Sciences, or Geography & GIS are eligible to apply for the Watershed Scholars program. Students with an interest in sustainable watersheds and backgrounds in biology, chemistry, engineering, ecology, geography, geology, environmental sciences, fisheries sciences, wildlife management, natural resources, and geosciences, are encouraged to apply. After being admitted to the SIUE graduate program, potential scholars must then apply to the Watershed Scholars Program (or they should apply to both the graduate program and scholarship program at the same time). Potential scholars will be asked to provide a written statement (250-500 words) describing their interest in watershed science research and, if applicable, any prior relevant research experience. Applications are being considered on a rolling basis, but students should apply before April 1 for priority consideration. Further information, including details on how to apply, can be found on the Watershed Scholars website. If students have any questions, please encourage them to contact the Watershed Scholars project lead, Dr. Adriana E. Martinez at admart@siue.edu. This program is funded by the National Science Foundation DUE Award #2130471.

NSF NCAR | UCAR | UCP STUDENT OPPORTUNITIES

NCAR | UCAR | UCP offer many different summer experiences for students in Earth System Science. Labs and Programs have unique opportunities with separate applications and different deadlines. We invite you to explore the compiled list below and apply to opportunities you find interesting.

UCAR Next Generation Fellowship

The UCAR Next Generation graduate Fellowship is a prestigious, multi-faceted opportunity to explore the interplay between the areas of scientific research, diversity and inclusion, and public policy within the field of Earth Systems Science. Fellows engage with, and learn from, UCAR's leaders in these three arenas while participating in dedicated professional development and leadership training opportunities.

UCAR STUDENT OPPORTUNITIES WEBSITE

Check the opportunities website for other opportunities that are not currently accepting applications but may during other times of the year.

POST-DOC OPPORTUNITY - AIR FORCE SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY FELLOWSHIPS

The National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine administers postdoctoral and senior research awards at the U.S. Air Force Research Laboratory (AFRL), the U.S. Air Force Institute of Technology (AFIT), and the U.S. Air Force Academy (USAFA) under the Air Force Science & Technology Fellowship Program \(AF STFP\).

Seeking highly qualified candidates who are U.S. citizens and hold, or anticipate earning, a doctorate in a variety of fields of science or engineering.

Application deadline dates (four annual review cycles): February 1, May 1, August 1, November 1

Awardees have the opportunity to:

- Conduct independent research in an area compatible with the interests of the Air Force laboratories
- Devote full-time effort to research and publication
- Access the excellent and often unique Air Force research facilities
- Collaborate with leading scientists and engineers
- Awardee benefits:
- Base stipend starting at $76,542; may be higher based on experience
- Health insurance (including dental/vision), relocation benefits, and a professional travel allowance

Applicants should contact prospective AFRL, AFIT and USAFA Research Adviser(s) at the lab(s) prior to the application deadline to discuss their research interests and funding opportunities.

For detailed program information, to search for AFRL, AFIT, and USAFA Research Opportunities, and to contact prospective Research Adviser(s), visit www.nas.edu/afstfp.

AWG BRUNTON AWARD AND BRUNTON FIELD PROJECT AWARD

The AWG Brunton Award and Brunton Field Project Award promote the future of field mapping and data acquisition for the upcoming generation of people whose gender identity has been historically underrepresented in the geosciences. Applicants should have a passion for and exceptional experience with field work, including internships, field camp, coursework with a field-based research component, or research. The AWG Brunton Award has been active for >20 years and provides Brunton compasses to 1–2 awardees each year. The AWG Brunton Field Project Award started in 2022 and awards a Brunton compass and up to $1000 to support field activities to each of 1–2 awardees each year. LUNAR PLANETARY INSTITUTE - DIRECTOR Universities Space Research Association, an independent, nonprofit research corporation, is seeking a Director for the Lunar and Planetary Institute (LPI). The Director of the LPI provides scientific leadership for and management of the program of research and operations of the Institute to maintain it as a premier research center supporting NASA's strategic goals in lunar and planetary sample science and exploration of the solar system. The Director oversees multiple activities carried out by the LPI, including conducting cutting-edge scientific research through grants and contracts; running highly successful conferences and workshops, including the annual Lunar and Planetary Science Conference; training and providing resources for early-career researchers; connecting the public to planetary science through a variety of events and activities; and providing extensive library and digital resources to the planetary science community. The LPI enjoys a strong partnership with the Astromaterials Research and Exploration Science Division at NASA's Johnson Space Center, facilitated by the proximity of the two organizations and historic collaborations.

UNIVERSITY OF OK – AVIATION METEOROLOGY ASSOC. PROFESSOR

The School of Meteorology and School of Aviation at the University of Oklahoma have an open tenure-track position at the Associate Professor level focused on Aviation Meteorology. If you or someone you know are interested, the full announcement is here. Reach out to the search chair Dr. Jens Redemann (iredemann@ou.edu) with any questions.

MEDITERRANEAN INSTITUTE OF OCEANOGRAPHY
MARSEILLE, FRANCE – POST DOC

2-year postdoc position in modelling the habitability of the atmosphere (applied to Earth's atmosphere and exoplanets). The position would suit someone with an interest in habitability/astrobiology, theoretical approaches to environmental microbiology, and who has strong numerical skills (ecosystem, habitability, bioenergetics modelling). The post is based at the Mediterranean Institute of Oceanography, in Marseille, France, with the possibility for remote/flexible working arrangements. More details.

WOOSTER – VISITING ASSISTANT PROFESSOR

Wooster is hiring a 2-year Visiting Assistant Professor in Environmental Science. We are open to any expertise in the environmental sciences as long as the candidate can teach GIS. Next year, we will be developing an Environmental Science major – this person would play a critical role in that process and the administration has been supportive of our plan to convert this position to tenure track.

This is a great opportunity for an early career scientist to launch a future in the liberal arts. Our small, supportive department fosters a vibrant environment for students, staff, and faculty to thrive. We are looking for someone who is passionate about teaching and eager to contribute to our intellectual and inclusive community. Full details and application instructions can be found here.
